ABOUT CASA

Each year, more than 1,500 children living in Johnson and Wyandotte Counties are under the court's protection due to abuse and neglect. With an overwhelmed child welfare system, the needs and interests of these children can be overlooked. They need someone to speak up for them to ensure their timely placement in safe and permanent homes.

CASA (Court Appointed Special Advocates) recruits, trains and supports community volunteers to empower abused children and give them a chance for a brighter future. CASA volunteers are powerful, effective and caring individuals. They play a crucial role in a child's life by monitoring their case and reporting findings to the court. This helps to ensure better, more informed decisions are made regarding the life of a child.

With more than 230 trained advocates and nearly 22,000 volunteer hours dedicated to children, CASA of Johnson & Wyandotte Counties will serve over 450 local children this year. All have a friend and advocate working to ensure their placement in homes with hope for a positive future.

In some cases, this means returning to their parents once their safety is assured. In others, it means releasing the child for adoption. In either situation, CASA and our volunteer advocates are focused on the same goal - to give each child a chance at happiness and the stability they need to thrive.

Why Join?

As a volunteer-driven organization, CASA is one of the most efficient ways to make a major difference in the lives of children and ultimately improve the communities in which your employees and customers live and work.

By joining the “In Good Company” Club you will become a partner in the success of CASA while also providing an opportunity to bring positive change to the life of one or more abused children. Few, if any, causes have a more compelling appeal. In choosing to participate, you can feel good about helping to serve our community’s most in need while providing your company with numerous benefits. These include reaching new audiences, increasing stakeholder and employee loyalty and making a social impact in the communities where you do business.

We can assure that your financial support will be put to good use to serve children: 87 cents of every dollar contributed goes directly to program services. In addition, CASA also offers a unique volunteer opportunity. Many of our CASA advocates are the employees and associates of local companies. Volunteer programs give greater exposure in the local community, and employees become engaged in and supportive of their commitment to CASA.

Your corporate gift will empower one or more abused children with a year-long match to a volunteer advocate. This advocate will be a voice in court and trusted friend. On average, it costs $1,800 a year to match a child with a CASA advocate. A small price for such a big reward.
